VOCATIONAL EDUCATION & TRAINING

National Training Packages

Training packages are sets of nationally endorsed standards and qualifications for recognising and assessing people's skills. A training package and the qualifications contained within it are statements about what a person is competent to do in a workplace.

National Training Packages are developed by industry through the national Skills Council and involve consultation with industry to make sure they meet industry and enterprise needs. Registered Training Organisations such as Blueprint Career Development use training packages as the basis for developing training programs in specific areas.

A training program is a structured approach to the development and attainment of competencies for a particular qualification. It includes the choice of units or options within the training package and the method, training and location for achieving the competencies.

Competency Based Training (CBT)

Competency standards are used around Australia to describe what your industry accepts as effective performance in the workplace. This includes the knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to do a job.

These standards are divided into units of competency that match specific activities people carry out at work. Examples include: Cleaning a guest room, serving customers, securing premises or building a retaining wall. Every job is made up of several units of competency.

Each unit of competency is further broken down into smaller parts, called elements and performance criteria. These are what assessors use when they are judging whether someone is “competent” or “not yet competent”.

Being deemed “competent” means that:

- You know how to do the job or specific task
- You understand why it should be done in certain ways
- You can manage different tasks simultaneously
- You can deal with everyday problems that may occur
- You understand and comply with workplace policies and procedures plus relevant legislation
- You work well with others in your team or workplace
- You do all of these things consistently and regularly

National Recognition

Blueprint Career Development recognises and accepts qualifications and statements of attainment issued by other Registered Training Organisations. Students who can provide documentation of previous nationally recognised training should request a Credit Transfer or RPL application. Successful Credit Transfer and RPL applications usually mean that you will have fewer units of competence to complete in order to fulfil the requirements of a qualification.

Credit Transfer is the process whereby a registered training organisation formally “credits” qualifications and statements of attainment issued by other Registered Training Organisations to a course of study. So if you have completed or partially completed another qualification, please speak to your trainer about having your studies recognised.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is the formal process whereby an RTO evaluates your life and work experience to against the qualification or course of study you have enrolled in thus potentially eliminating the need to undertake some units of competence.

You must have sufficient evidence to demonstrate that you are competent in each performance criteria and the responsibility for providing proof lies entirely with you. Some forms of appropriate evidence might include: Performance appraisals, work samples, employer and/or customer letters, job descriptions and oral or written responses to questions.

An RPL kit is available from Blueprint Career Development and if you would like to pursue this option, please speak to your trainer.

Vocational Placement

Vocational placement is where a student is placed in a workplace to receive practical training and experience, as part of a training program. Vocational placement complements structured training. Assessment of competence in the workplace is a requirement of a vocational placement.

Some qualifications require students to undertake vocational placement for a specific number of hours. We highly recommend that students participate in vocational placement even if it is not a mandatory component of a qualification. There is no better way for students to practice their skills in a live working environment, develop confidence and demonstrate to a potential employer that they would be make a great addition to the team.

ADMINISTRATION MATTERS

Enrolment and Orientation

Prior to enrolling in a training program, Blueprint Career Development will discuss your options and provide detailed information about the studies you propose to undertake. Selecting a course or qualification that suits your current employment and future career goals is important and we aim to help you reach your full potential.

In order to make sure you have all the information you need to make an informed decision about the investment you are about to make, your trainer will provide you with a comprehensive information pack containing the following:

Student Handbook

You are holding this now. It gives plenty of information about how the learning takes place, what to do if you need assistance and other general information.

Language, Literacy & Numeracy Support Indicator

This is a quick written test to help us determine if you will need additional support or adjustments in your learning. Our trainers are able to help if you experience difficulty with literacy or numeracy and in some instances, we may direct you to an appropriate provider who specialises in this area.

Enrolment Form

You complete this so we have all your details on file. If any of your personal details change during the training, please let us know immediately. You will need to have a verified Unique Student Identifier before any official certification can be issued to you.

USI (Unique Student Identifier) Number

All individuals undertaking a VET qualification are required to have a USI number before they can enrol. For school students, this is in ADDITION to the LUI number. Students need to go to www.usi.gov.au and follow the process to have a USI generated. An instruction manual is available upon request.

Our Trainers and Assessors

Blueprint Career Development engages staff with appropriate qualifications and experience to deliver the training and facilitate the assessment relevant to the training product offered. Our trainers and assessors are highly qualified and experienced in their field of industry expertise and in the educational process. In addition, our trainers and assessors regularly do extended vocational placement in their industry so that they retain their currency and credibility. Should you experience difficulties with your learning, please speak with your trainer who will endeavour to assist.

The Training Environment

Adequate facilities, equipment and training materials will be utilised to ensure the learning environment is conducive to student success in meeting the expected learning outcomes.

International Students

We do not offer training or assessment to international students.

The Training Process

- Once you have completed the enrolment form and paid any relevant fees, we will contact you to confirm the training details such as date and time, location and trainer.
- Training delivery may be facilitated individually or in a group. It may include self-paced (online or workbooks), workplace and classroom facilitation.
- All the necessary resources will be provided.
- You may be able to "fast track" your training and possibly complete your qualification earlier than the allocated time through cross credit or recognition of prior learning process.
- All our courses include rigorous theory and practical assessments.

Stationery, Text and Materials

Most students who enrol in a course or undertake a traineeship with Blueprint Career Development complete the theory component using our online Learning Management System. Hard copy workbooks may also be used or can be arranged upon request. In some courses, special equipment or other materials may need to be purchased by the student however information relating to these requirements will be provided to students prior to enrolment. Students are to ensure that they have the necessary books and equipment/stationery for each unit lesson.

We expect you to be actively involved in the learning process and take responsibility for:

- Monitoring your own progress and asking for assistance when you need it.
- Attending all training sessions punctually as scheduled. Whilst we do understand that illness, injury and other circumstances might prevent you from attending occasionally, any time taken away from the program may result in you not achieving your competency level. A doctor's certificate may be required if you are absent.
- Presenting yourself appropriately – Your personal hygiene, grooming and attire should reflect the position you aspire to. In some instances, you may be required to wear a uniform or instructed to present yourself in a specific way. If you are unsure of what is expected, please speak to your trainer.
- Maintaining a positive and enthusiastic attitude.

The Assessment Process

The purpose of assessment is to collect evidence about your knowledge and skills and compare it to a set of industry standards. This comparison will result in a “competent” or “not yet competent” outcome. If you are deemed “not yet competent”, your assessor will talk to you about what you can do. You may need to participate in more training, gain experience or undertake additional assessment tasks. There are many ways you can prove your competence including the common ones listed below.

Interview/Answering Questions

This will help your assessor get to know how much you recall and understand. This assessment method may also be used if you are a trainee or experienced employee to give you an opportunity to explain your workplace, your position and the specific tasks you perform.

Training Records

Records include certificates for any training or professional development you may have done in the past, special licences, relevant memberships and attendance at industry meetings.

Work Records

Information that shows the work you have done and when you did it. This includes performance appraisals, production records, workplace awards and commendations.

Work Samples

Items that you have created or produced as part of your job. In some instances photos of work are also useful.

Practical Demonstration/Observation

You demonstrate a skill while your assessor observes your performance.

Simulations and Role Plays

These involve you performing tasks that may be difficult to observe in the workplace because they occur irregularly. They are often used so your assessor can see how you might manage unplanned events like emergencies.

During the assessment process, your assessor will negotiate the forms of relevant evidence and timing of assessment with you. As a general rule, at least two forms of evidence will be required to prove your competence.

A FEW OTHER POINTS ON ASSESSMENT:

- The onus will be on you to complete and submit assessments within the time specified by the trainer or to make alternative arrangements before the due date.
- You should always retain a copy of your assessments.
- Blueprint Career Development is under no obligation to accept or process any assessment item if fees are not fully paid. If this occurs, we will discuss the situation with you.
- It is our policy to allow a student three attempts only at each assessment item. The repeat assessment item will usually be similar but not the same as the initial assessment.
- You should keep track of your progress by communicating regularly with your trainer.

Recognition of Current Competency

If you have gained knowledge and skills through your work, life experience, training or education, you are probably a candidate for recognition assessment. If successful, the process could provide you with a full or part qualification.

Recognition of current competency is the name for the process by which your skills and knowledge are assessed against the requirements of a unit(s) of competency to see if they meet today's industry standards. Recognition Assessment is an umbrella term that refers to the Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) and Credit Transfer.

If you are able to demonstrate that you already have the required knowledge and skills at the required standard, you will not have to repeat the learning process. It means that it may be possible for you to gain credits or exemptions from completing all or part of your qualification based on evidence of your prior learning and current competence.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

If you decide to apply for RPL you will need to read the application pack carefully, complete the required information and provide a portfolio of evidence to demonstrate that you have the necessary skills and knowledge. The portfolio can contain any number of items and may include for example:

- courses and qualifications completed
- references which detail your responsibilities
- supervisor reports
- examples of work
- letters from customers
- job descriptions/duty statements
- awards and prizes
- organisation charts to show your position

You will then be asked to attend an RPL assessment with course and RPL experts. The interviewer's job is to make sure you have answered every question as thoroughly as possible so that a decision can be made on granting you RPL. After the interview, you will be notified of the decision. Sometimes you will be asked to provide extra information, or if there is insufficient evidence then a challenge test may be requested to demonstrate your competencies.

Credit Transfer

Students who have completed training with another Registered Training Organisation may be eligible for credit transfer. Only nationally recognised transcripts or Statements of Attainment for equivalent units of competency will be accepted as Credit Transfers.

Cancellations

Whilst every endeavour will be made to offer all advertised courses, we reserve the right to change or cancel timetables, course locations, course offerings, trainers and other such details or circumstances beyond our control that affects enrolments. Every effort will be made to advise students of any changes. Students can choose to receive a full credit to another program or request a full refund.

Discipline Procedures

Blueprint Career Development is obliged to ensure that the training you receive is of a high quality and because of this, certain rules and standards exist. These are similar to those expected by an employer. A breach of the rules or standards can result in your enrolment being cancelled. If you breach any of the following you may be asked to “show cause”, be put on a “warning” or other disciplinary action as determined by Management to be appropriate.

- Possession, use or consumption of drugs or alcohol during training
- Repeated failure to attend scheduled training
- Repeated failure to complete assigned work or bring required resources
- Disrespect of other students, the trainer or assessor
- Putting others at risk of injury or accident
- Having personal visitors or phone calls interrupt the training
- Other serious misconduct

A “show cause” involves a meeting between you and Blueprint Career Development Management. You will be asked to explain why your behaviour has been below that expected of you. The meeting will serve as a “warning”. If another incident occurs, we will cancel your enrolment without refund.

Issuance of Certification

At the successful completion of nationally recognised training program, you will be issued with a Qualification or a Statement of Attainment – whichever is applicable. This certification will be issued within 30 days of the final assessment being marked.

You should keep your certificates in a safe place. If you misplace your original document, we can re-issue it for a fee of $25. Please be aware that if you change your address and do not notify us, you will be charged a reissuance fee if you do not receive the original posted to the last address you provided us.

Record Keeping and Privacy

We believe that your right to the privacy of your personal information is sacrosanct. Blueprint Career Development retains an ongoing record of your progress and course outcomes. This information remains accessible for 12 weeks after the completion of your studies. After that time, records will be archived but can be accessed by you for fee by applying in writing to the Director. Any information collected is used for training and assessment purposes as is made available to authorised people only.

All collection, storage and disclosure of information will be done in accordance with the Privacy Act 2000.

Fees & Refunds

A fee summary will be provided prior to enrolment and students should review this in conjunction with our Refund Policy. Under certain circumstances, refunds may apply to students who have paid the required training fees, but for certain reasons are unable to commence or complete the training program.

Should Blueprint Career Development cancel any training program, all participants are entitled to a full refund or a transfer of the funds paid to another training program. If, for whatever reason, Blueprint Career Development cannot complete delivery of the course, we will meet the requirements as dictated by ASQA and PSQ funding agreement for the transition to another RTO.

Complaints

We take all feedback, including complaints seriously. If you are dissatisfied with any aspect of the training or assessment, please speak to your trainer immediately. If your concern is not resolved, you are encouraged to contact the Training Manager on 1300 851 550. You may be asked to outline the nature of your complaint and specific details on a formal complaint form or attend a meeting with management. Blueprint Career Development management will investigate the issue, take action to resolve your concerns and provide you with a response.

If you are not satisfied that the issue has been resolved by Blueprint Career Development, you may escalate your concern to external and independent parties such as:

- Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) – www.asqa.gov.au
- Anti-Discrimination Board
- Your legal or union representative
- Consumer Affairs or other bodies as appropriate.

All complaints brought to the attention of management (verbal or written format) are recorded and retained in confidential student files.

Appeal of Assessments

To ensure fair, valid, reliable and flexible assessment, Blueprint Career Development makes every effort to:

- Explain the expected standards and evidence requirements prior to the assessment commencing, and
- Give you feedback on assessment results and the opportunity to discuss any concerns or issues

You may appeal against a finding of “not yet competent” and the assessors decision will be reviewed by Management. To appeal against the outcome of an assessment, you will need to submit a written appeal together with a $50 administration fee within ten (10) days of the assessment decision. We will organise a formal review of the assessment by another qualified and experienced assessor and provide you with a report on the outcome.

Successful appellants will be refunded the $50 administration fee.

- Should your complaint not be resolved satisfactorily, you can formally appeal to the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) – www.asqa.gov.au

Workplace Health and Safety

Health and Safety is an individual and shared responsibility of everyone in the training venue or workplace. Blueprint Career Development will make every reasonable effort to ensure that we have considered all areas of accident and injury prevention, hazard control, health preservation and promotion.

All learners have a “duty of care” to protect their own safety as well as that of other students and trainers. The success of a safety and health program ultimately rests on the willingness of everyone to cooperate. If you are ever in doubt about how to do a job or task safely, it is your responsibility to ask your trainer for advice or assistance. It is your “duty of care” to:

- Report unsafe conditions, hazards, incidents, accidents and “near misses” immediately to the trainer.
- Follow all lawful instructions given by your trainer.
- Wear protective clothing and other equipment as required.
- Only use equipment and machinery that you have been taught to operate correctly. Follow manufacturers instructions for use at all times.
- Inform staff of any medical condition that may affect their work or of any medication they are required to take.

Workplace Health and Safety is legislated by two government bodies - Worksafe Australia and the relevant state Workcover Authority (e.g Workcover Queensland). More information about Queensland regulations, standards and requirements can be found at <http://www.worksafe.qld.gov.au>.

Emergencies

In the unlikely event of an emergency such as a fire or bomb threat, you may need to evacuate. The evacuation procedure is essentially:

- Remain calm
- Follow the instructions given by your trainer or safety representative
- Move to designated assembly area
- List and respond to the roll call
- Remain in the evacuation area until you are instructed to leave by your trainer or safety representative

Access, Equity and Diversity

We take our legal and moral obligations for compliance with equal opportunity and anti-discrimination very seriously.

ACCESS means the ability, right, or permission to approach, enter, speak with, or use; admittance.

EQUITY essentially means fairness. It means that people are provided with an opportunity to access, participate in and successfully achieve outcomes. ACATS also has an understanding that:

- it is common for people to identify with more than one equity group;
- there are differences within and between equity groups;
- each equity group does not experience the same type of disadvantage; and
- there remain many common barriers for equity groups.

DIVERSITY recognises that many factors influence the ability of people to participate and succeed in vocational education and training and employment, including:

- prior educational experiences
- language
- goals and expectations
- work and social experiences
- values and beliefs
- income
- geographic location
- cultural identity
- learning styles
- motivation
- gender
- religion
- family
- age

Staff and students are recruited in an ethical and responsible manner and consistent with the law and requirements of the National Training Package where applicable. Appropriately qualified staff will assess the extent to which the applicant is likely to achieve the stated competency standards and outcomes of the course, based on their qualifications and experience.

Blueprint Career Development is committed to access and equity by ensuring continued participation of target groups in its VET programs including the following identified groups:

- Women
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders
- People from Non English Speaking Backgrounds
- People with a disability
- Rural and regionally isolated communities
- People in transition and other special groups (i.e. people re-entering the workforce, sole parents people with literacy issues, the long term unemployed and those who have been institutionalised)

We encourage students to report behaviours and activities that contravene our commitment to access, equity and diversity immediately and to seek advice from our Management team.

Disability Definitions

The purpose of the information contained below is to provide additional information to assist with answering the disability question on the enrolment form. If you indicated the presence of a disability, impairment or long-term condition, please select the area(s) in the following list:

Disability in this context does not include short-term disabling health conditions such as a fractured leg, influenza, or corrected physical conditions such as impaired vision managed by wearing glasses or lenses.

'11 — Hearing/deaf'

Hearing impairment is used to refer to a person who has an acquired mild, moderate, severe or profound hearing loss after learning to speak, communicates orally and maximises residual hearing with the assistance of amplification. A person who is deaf has a severe or profound hearing loss from, at, or near birth and mainly relies upon vision to communicate, whether through lip reading, gestures, cued speech, finger spelling and/or sign language.

'12 — Physical'

A physical disability affects the mobility or dexterity of a person and may include a total or partial loss of a part of the body. A physical disability may have existed since birth or may be the result of an accident, illness, or injury suffered later in life; for example, amputation, arthritis, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, paraplegia, quadriplegia or post-polio syndrome.

'13 — Intellectual'

In general, the term 'intellectual disability' is used to refer to low general intellectual functioning and difficulties in adaptive behaviour, both of which conditions were manifested before the person reached the age of 18. It may result from infection before or after birth, trauma during birth, or illness.

'14 — Learning'

A general term that refers to a heterogeneous group of disorders manifested by significant difficulties in the acquisition and use of listening, speaking, reading, writing, reasoning, or mathematical abilities. These disorders are intrinsic to the individual, presumed to be due to central nervous system dysfunction, and may occur across the life span. Problems in self-regulatory behaviours, social perception, and social interaction may exist with learning disabilities but do not by themselves constitute a learning disability.

'15 — Mental illness'

Mental illness refers to a cluster of psychological and physiological symptoms that cause a person suffering or distress and which represent a departure from a person's usual pattern and level of functioning.

'16 — Acquired brain impairment'

Acquired brain impairment is injury to the brain that results in deterioration in cognitive, physical, emotional or independent functioning. Acquired brain impairment can occur as a result of trauma, hypoxia, infection, tumour, accidents, violence, substance abuse, degenerative neurological diseases or stroke. These impairments may be either temporary or permanent and cause partial or total disability or psychosocial maladjustment.

'17 — Vision'

This covers a partial loss of sight causing difficulties in seeing, up to and including blindness. This may be present from birth or acquired as a result of disease, illness or injury.

'18 — Medical condition'

Medical condition is a temporary or permanent condition that may be hereditary, genetically acquired or of unknown origin. The condition may not be obvious or readily identifiable, yet may be mildly or severely debilitating and result in fluctuating levels of wellness and sickness, and/or periods of hospitalisation; for example, HIV/AIDS, cancer, chronic fatigue syndrome, Crohn's disease, cystic fibrosis, asthma or diabetes.

'19 — Other'

A disability, impairment or long-term condition which is not suitably described by one or several disability types in combination. Autism spectrum disorders are reported under this category.

Classroom / Work Placement Conduct

Blueprint Career Development aims to encourage a safe and pleasant study/work atmosphere. For this to occur we ask all students to respect the learning needs of other students and keep the noise level to a minimum.

The following actions will not be tolerated:

- Physical abuse of another person, threatening behaviour (including stalking and bullying) that causes any other person to fear physical abuse.
- Harassment (including any unwanted behaviour – physical, verbal, written, electronic or otherwise) directed at an individual or group.
- Any form of discrimination or sexual harassment.
- Creation of a condition that endangers or threatens the health, safety or well-being of themselves or others.
- Unauthorised and/or unsafe use of equipment and resources.
- Possession of, or use of, firearms or dangerous weapons of any kind.
- Possession of Pornographic/offensive material

Be considerate. Any decision you make will affect others and we expect you to take those consequences into account when making decisions.

Be respectful. We treat everyone with respect and expect the same in return. We may not always agree, but a disagreement is no excuse for poor behaviour or a lack of manners. We might all experience some frustration now and then, but we cannot allow that frustration to turn into a personal attack. It's important to remember that if people feel uncomfortable or threatened, the learning environment or workplace is not a productive one.

When you disagree, consult others. Disagreements happen all the time and the classroom/workplace is no exception. The important goal is not to avoid differing views but to resolve them constructively.

Ask for help, when you are unsure. Nobody knows everything, and nobody is expected to be perfect. Asking questions helps avoid potential problems but remember to put your hand up as a courtesy and to avoid too many people trying to speak at one time.

Vocational Placement

Vocational placement is intended to be a simulation of secure working conditions; therefore students are expected to put in the same effort as employees. This is your chance to learn new skills and impress a potential employer. Vocational placement should not to be taken for granted as many people would truly appreciate the opportunity, but cannot access it.

Blueprint Career Development will consider your preferences when choosing your vocational placement. Unfortunately not all local employers are willing to take on students. You are also encouraged to secure your own appropriate vocational placement. It is your responsibility to attend no matter where it is, unless there is a conflict of interest. Refusing or failing to attend will be deemed a misconduct and lead to course enrolment disqualification.

Leave of Absence / Sick Leave

Sick leave is to be taken where a student suffers a personal illness or injury that makes you unfit for study/work for a period. If a student does not report to work claiming illness and it is subsequently established that the student was actually fit for duty, disciplinary action will be taken, up to and including possible exclusion from the course. This accurately simulates actual working conditions.

- If you need to take leave of absence or sick leave please contact your trainer as soon as reasonably practicable to allow us to rearrange the work schedule.
- You will be required to provide a medical certificate for sick leave absences of more than one day.

Drugs/Alcohol/Smoking

Do not possess, trade, sell or consume illicit drugs/alcohol while in training, on breaks during training or at vocational placement.

- Smoking is not permitted in or within 4 metres of any access ways to buildings or work areas. All workplaces will have a designated smoking zone/policy. It is the responsibility of the student to follow these instructions while on work placement.

Internet Access / Mobile Phones / iPods & Other electronic devices.

The access is to be for the sole purposes of performing the duties of the role described. Access to sites such as Facebook / MySpace and Snapchat for example, is not permitted. The host employer internet policy will apply to all students while in that environment.

- Mobile phones are to be put on silent and only answered in case of emergency or during designated breaks.
- iPods and another other types of musical devices are not permitted during class or work placement time.

Your enrolment in a Blueprint Career Development course signifies that you:

- Understand that if you are considered to be behaving inappropriately, you will be advised verbally that you are breaching the rules and will be requested to stop the offending behaviour.
- Understand that if you do not observe appropriate conduct, you may be excluded from participating in class and may, in extreme cases, be subject to other penalties and restrictions, including being denied access to further training.

Blueprint Career Development may include report breaches to relevant authorities such as Education Queensland, Centrelink and Job Services Australia organizations to take further action as appropriate.
